

The Guardian Angle

Ruth 2:1-23

Christian Williams - March 17, 2019

Act 2: A breadcrumb of hope moves the story back to danger-filled fields of Bethlehem where a “chance” encounter leads to a life-changing display of power.

(Proverbs 16:33)

When you trust the source of true power, you're secure to share your power.

(Ruth 2:4, 12)

Power should be wielded in your words and work to...

(Proverbs 12:14)

- Protect others. (Ruth 2:3, 8-9)
- Provide for others. (Ruth 2:3, 14-16, 18)
- Include others. (Ruth 2:14)

Next Steps to Consider...

- ☐ Participate in the Treasure Challenge
- ☐ Read the entire book of Ruth this week
- ☐ Do a Power inventory: Look at your responsibilities and relationships and determine how you could better wield your power for the good of others.
- ☐ Speak benedictions: Make a point to begin and end your communication for the day with your family and friends with words that build them up.
- ☐ Memorize Proverbs 12:14 (CSB)
A person will be satisfied with good by the fruit of his mouth, and the work of a person's hands will reward him.
